MEREDITH ANDERSON, is a divorced mom living in NYC with her 9-year-old son, ANDY. She quits her job and moves to Fayetteville, Louisiana a few short weeks before Christmas. Meredith's big challenge is figuring out how to support herself. Andy misses his friends and doesn't fit in with the local kids. Andy meets an elderly, white-bearded recluse who lives by himself in the bayou and tells Andy that he is Papa Noel. CALEB LAURENCE, a ranger who works in the bayou, reconnects with Meredith, and a relationship between the unlikely couple commences. On Christmas Eve, a storm hits, destroying everything. When the town awakens upon Christmas morning, they're stunned to find a priceless and unexpected gift: Fayetteville has been rebuilt and looks more pristine than ever. Andy knows who did this - Papa Noel - who uses his magic to help Andy and Meredith fit into their new lives.

Origin

JOLIE GUIDRY, a conscientious web designer working in New York City, receives some devastating news right before her trip home for the holidays: her ex-boyfriend FOSTER BROUSSARD is bringing home a new girlfriend for Christmas only a few months after he and Jolie's long term romance abruptly came to an end. It wouldn't be so bad, but their families are best friends and have run the annual Christmas festival together for thirty years. Jolie confides in her best friend NAOMI who presents a solution that can make things a bit more tolerable— Jolie should bring Naomi's brother JACK home to Louisiana for Christmas to pretend to be her boyfriend. At first, Jolie and Jack's awkwardness around each other seems like they've made a foolish decision but after long days spent working on the Christmas festival, and long nights chatting about life and love, Jack and Jolie soon develop true feelings for each other.

ELIZABETH WATSON is a lawyer, more focused on her career and success than on being a good person. Her colleague, ROBERT MORGAN, tells her she must "listen" to others and understand what it means to put the group before the individual. While Holiday shopping, Elizabeth meets Santa's helper, NICK aka ST. NICK. After hearing her dilemma, Nick grants Elizabeth her wish, to understand and "hear" people. The next day Elizabeth realizes that she can hear people's thoughts. Elizabeth becomes a better person, but also begins to develop real friendships with her co-workers. Elizabeth and Robert spend more time together, and ultimately they kiss. On Christmas Eve, Elizabeth loses her "gift" from Nick. After tracking him down, Nick reminds Elizabeth she doesn't need the ability to "hear" people's thoughts in order to really listen to them. Then Elizabeth visits Robert and the two spend the best-ever Christmas Day!
