STAGECOACH: THE STORY OF TEXAS JACK (2016)

After retiring from his life as an outlaw, Nathaniel Reed (Trace Adkins) has settled down to a quaint family life with his wife Laura Lee. But Reed's new, honest life is quickly interrupted when his old partner in crime Frank Bell shows up to inform Reed that US Marshal Woody Calhoun (Kim Coates) is out to kill them over an old grudge and he's enlisted bounty hunter Bonnie Mudd to help. After a gun battle that supposedly kills Laura Lee, Reed flees to lead Bell and Sid Dalton (Judd Nelson) on a series of stagecoach robberies. As the men avoid Calhoun and become the most wanted outlaws in the West, Reed earns the nickname "Texas Jack." Their careers as stagecoach robbers comes to an abrupt end when, Bell and Calhoun set a trap for Reed. Reed escapes, but not for long. Calhoun captures Laura Lee to draw Red out of hiding. In an intense shootout, Reed saves Laura Lee and Sid from Calhoun and clears his name. Based on a true story.

THE VIRGINIAN (2014)

A gritty and riveting re-imagining of the classic Western saga. Raised by powerful cattle baron Judge Henry (Perlman), South, aka "The Virginian" (Adkins), lives his life as a ranch enforcer with bravery and steely determination. When a big-city writer (Penny) raises questions about the fierce treatment of rustlers, South is quick to defend the brutal realities of the "Code of the West." But as he looks deeper into the latest string of rustling and finds his convictions questioned by a pretty new schoolteacher, South begins to wonder if the Judge had ulterior motives in raising him to a life of bloodshed and violence in this explosive, action-loaded epic on the open range.

Director: Thomas Makowski
